

ChemTalent – our Young Professionals network

ChemTalent is a network for professionals working in UK chemical and pharmaceutical businesses who are either at the start of their career or keen to broaden their skills and voice their opinions on behalf of the UK chemical industry. Dedicated to empowering the next generation of leaders in the chemicals industry, this network thrives on fostering collaboration and encouraging active participation in key discussions with industry and stakeholders. By joining ChemTalent, you can shape the future of the sector, drive innovation and create meaningful change. We provide a platform for young professionals to amplify their voices, influence the direction of the industry and ensure that the UK's chemical sector continues to grow and evolve with fresh perspectives and bold ideas.

There are two sections of ChemTalent: the Committee and the ChemTalent Network, which are explained in the sections below.

ChemTalent Committee

- Leadership and Decision-making: Composed of early career professionals passionate about driving change and promoting the chemicals industry..
- Primary Role: Organises initiatives, facilitates discussions, and represents the ChemTalent Network in various forums to influence the future workforce.
- Engagement: Works with government bodies, industry leaders, and international associations to influence policies, promote best practices, and ensure the industry's long-term growth.
- Focus: Aims to shape a sustainable and innovative future for the chemicals sector by ensuring the perspectives of emerging talents are heard, valued, and integrated into industry strategies.
- Commitment: Members are expected to actively participate in monthly meetings, contribute to strategic planning, and dedicate a few hours each week to committee-related tasks, all while advocating for the future of the industry and its workforce.

ChemTalent Network

- Community: A vibrant network of early career professionals and students interested in the chemicals industry.
- Platform: Provides opportunities for members to engage with events and give their opinions on key decisions being made in government, companies, and domestic and international institutions and associations.
- Professional Development: Offers events, workshops, and networking opportunities to support career growth.
- Engagement: Encourages active participation in discussions and contributions to the industry's evolution, fostering lasting professional relationships and driving positive change.
- Commitment: Fully flexible commitment, invited to attend events and workshops, engage in community discussions, and contribute to collaborative projects as their schedule allows.

If you are interested in joining or would like more information about upcoming events or would like to collaborate with ChemTalent in any way then please use the contact chemtalent@cia.org.uk.

Contacts us:

- ✉ chemtalent@cia.org.uk
- 🌐 cia.org.uk/our-focus/chemtalent
- in ChemTalent LinkedIn